Whitehall, April 20, 1779.

YESTERDAY Morning Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell, of the 71ſt Regiment of Foot, arrived in Town from Georgia, by whom a Letter has been received from Major-General Prevoſt, commanding His Majeſty's Troops in that Province, to the Right Honourable Lord George Germain, One of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State; of which the following is an Extract.

Extract of a Letter from Major-General Prevoſt to Lord George Germain. Dated Head Quarters, Ebenezer in Georgia, March 5, 1779.

I DID myſelf the Honor on the 19th of January laſt to acquaint your Lordſhip of my having arrived at Savannah, and, agreeable to the Commander in Chief's Inſtructions, taking upon me the Chief Command of His Majeſty's Troops in this Province.

As ſoon afterwards as the proper Arrangements could be made, Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell was detached up the River with a ſelect Corps of about 800 Regular Troops, and ſome Irregulars, to endeavour to penetrate to Auguſta, and to open the Communication with the back Inhabitants of the Provinces. The Colonel effected his March to Auguſta with few Obſtructions, and without any Loſs, notwithſtanding the Length of the Road and the Difficulties of the Country he had to paſs through.

Lieutenant-Colonel Prevoſt, with a conſiderable Detachment, had been ſent to ſuſtain, join, or otherwiſe co-operate with Colonel Campbell, as ſhould be judged beſt for His Majeſty's Service, and had taken Poſt at Briar Creek, to keep the Enemy below in Check, and to cover the Advance when neceſſary.

But becauſe of the Length and Difficulty of the Communication, it was judged proper for the Whole to fall back to Hudſon's Ferry, Twenty-four Miles above this, and which now forms the upper Extremity of our Chain on the River. Colonel Campbell has ſince gone to Savannah, to eſtabliſh, in conſequence of his Inſtructions from His Majeſty's Commiſſioners, ſome Civil Regulations in the Province previous to his Departure for England: And here, though I muſt lament the Loſs His Majeſty's Service will ſuſtain in the Abſence of ſo able and active an Officer, I think it no unfavourable Circumſtance however, that one ſo every Way capable will have the Honor of giving your Lordſhip every neceſſary Information regarding the Service of this Country: His penetrating ſo far into it, gave him good Opportunity of knowing it; and his being fully poſſeſſed of all my Ideas, which are alſo his own with regard to preſent Circumſtances and future Views, he has it much better in his Power to communicate them verbally, than I can in Writing; to him therefore I beg Leave to refer your Lordſhip. He is alſo acquainted with the Situation and State of the Rebels as well as of the King's Army, and knows the Reſources and Expectations of each.

Captain Parker, of His Majeſty's Ship Phœnix, and commanding the Squadron on this Service, is alſo about to leave us, in Compliance with his Inſtructions from Rear-Admiral Gambier,

I cannot ſufficiently expreſs to your Lordſhip the high Senſe I have of that Gentleman's active Zeal for the Service, and his ready and chearful Concurrence and Co-operation, when he could either act or aſſiſt. The moſt happy Cordiality has conſtantly ſubſiſted between the Departments; and though I hope that will always continue, yet the Departure of ſuch an Officer may not eaſily be made up to us in this Quarter. We may alſo feel this Diminution of our Naval Force, which, to be ſure, was never more than adequate to the Service.

I now proceed to inform your Lordſhip, that ſome Days ago Intelligence being received that the Rebels, in conſiderable Force, had taken Poſt at Briar Creek, 13 Miles above our Poſt at Hudſon's, and that they were buſied in repairing the Bridge, (which had been deſtroyed by Colonel Campbell in his Return downwards) as if intending to advance by that Route, our Poſt was reinforced, and Diſpoſitions ſecretly made to give them a proper Reception: And it being much to be wiſhed that they would put the Creek in their Rear, which would put it in our Power to attack them on advantageous Ground, Means were uſed to inſpire them with Confidence to attempt it. But after waiting 2 Days, finding that they meant only to eſtabliſh themſelves there for the Purpoſe of hampering us in our Quarters, and cutting us off from all Communication with the Upper Country, and perhaps had Views of Co operation with their Main Army, it was judged proper to diſlodge them. Accordingly Major M'Pherſon, with the 1ſt Battalion 71ſt Regiment, and ſome Irregulars, with Two Field Pieces, was directed by Lieutenant-Colonel Prevoſt to advance towards the Bridge to maſk the Movements he himſelf had made with the 2d Battalion 71ſt Regiment, a Corps of Light Infantry commanded by Sir James Baird, and Three Companies of Grenadiers of the Florida Brigade, with which he took a long Circuit of Fifty Miles to croſs the Creek above them, and endeavour to gain their Rear; Diſpoſitions were alſo made by the Army to favor the Attempt, and to amuſe and keep Mr. Lincoln in Check, ſhould he in the mean Time attempt any Thing

Thing in this Quarter. Our Plan was happily effected. The Rebels being in ſome Meaſure ſurpriz d, on the 3d Inſtant were totally defeated and diſperſed, with the Loſs of Seven Pieces of Cannon, ſeveral Stand of Colours, almoſt all their Arms, all their Ammunition and Baggage, which were left to the victorious Troops, the Intrepidity and Behaviour of which I am entreated by Lieutenant-Colonel Prevoſt to report to your Lordſhip to be laid before His Majeſty. Permit me at the ſame Time to mention him as a Perſon deſerving ſome Mark of His Majeſty's Royal Favour, his indefatigable Activity and his faithful Services intitle him to your Lordſhip's Patronage.

The ſecond in Command, Brigadier General Elbert, one of their beſt Officers, ſeveral more of Note, in the Whole Twenty-ſeven Officers, were taken, with near Two Hundred Men, about 150 were killed on the Field of Battle and adjoining Woods and Swamps; but their chief Loſs conſiſts in the Number of Officers and Men drowned in attempting to ſave themſelves from the Slaughter, and plunging into a deep and rapid River.

The Loſs on our Side was only Five Private killed, and One Officer and Ten Privates wounded. The Rebels, by the beſt Accounts, were above Two Thouſand. Their Commiſſary, our Priſoner, ſays, Two Thouſand Five Hundred. On our Side Three Grenadier Companies of the 60th Regiment, Sir James Baird's Light Infantry, the 2d Battalion 71ſt Regiment, Captain Tawes's Troop of Light Dragoons, with about 150 Provincials, Rangers and Militia, making in all about 900, compoſed the Corps that attacked.

The good Conſequences of this Defeat will, I hope, ſoon appear. The Rebels will not again diſturb us in this Province. Our Communication with our back Friends and the Indians will be open; and though I cannot think it prudent to extend immediately far upwards; in the mean Time, whilſt we guard what we have already got, we hold ourſelves in Readineſs to catch at further favourable Incidents, as they may occur.

I have only to add to your Lordſhip, that I wiſh you to be aſſured that nothing within the Compaſs of my Abilities ſhall be left undone, that may be thought to tend to the Advantage of His Majeſty's Service.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

We, the Commanding Officers of His Majeſty's Fleet and Army, from a juſt Regard to the Welfare of Georgia, and for the Preſervation of Peace and good Order among its Inhabitants, do hereby declare, that all the Laws of the Province of Georgia, which were in Force at the End of the Year 1775, are and ſhall continue in full Force until ſuch Time as a Period of leſs Diſquiet ſhall enable a future General Aſſembly to alter or amend them. And, for the more immediate and effectual Execution of Juſtice, without which the Property of Individuals cannot be ſafe, public Confidence reſtored, nor domeſtic Tranquillity confirmed, we hereby nominate and appoint the following Gentlemen to the ſeveral Departments of the Civil Government in Georgia, till His Majeſty's Pleaſure is known, namely,

ARCH. CAMPBELL.

LIEUTENANT Colonel Campbell adds to the foregoing Accounts, that at Auguſta and round it, the Inhabitants, to the Number of 1400 Men, ſubmitted, ſwore Allegiance to the King, took the Benefit of His Majeſty's gracious Protection, and were formed into 20 Companies, in the Stile of Militia, for the Defence of their Property againſt the Incurſions of the Rebels from Carolina.

That after his Return down the Country Intelligence was received, that a Body of the Loyaliſts of North and South Carolina, conſiſting of about 600 Men, after being repulſed by the Rebels, were in Search

Search of the Royal Army by the back or upper Road. That the advanced Part of the Army was immediately moved towards them; and that 300 of them joined the King's Troops, and are formed under their own Leaders with every poſſible Attention and Encouragement.

That ſince the laſt Action many Deſerters from the Continental Troops in Carolina had come in, and were forming into Companies; and that a Lieutenant Colonel and 30 Men had arrived in one Night immediately before his Departure.

Peterſburg, March 26. The King of Great Britain having been graciouſly pleaſed to nominate James Harris, Eſq; His Envoy Extraordinary and Miniſter Plenipotentiary at this Court, to be a Knight Companion of the Moſt Honourable Order of the Bath; and his Majeſty being deſirous that he ſhould be knighted and inveſted with the Enſigns of the ſaid Order in the moſt honourable and moſt diſtinguiſhed Manner, Mr. Harris applied to her Imperial Majeſty the Empreſs of Ruſſia, by Order of the King his Maſter, to deſire ſhe would be pleaſed to repreſent His Majeſty on this Occaſion; to which her Imperial Majeſty very readily conſented, expreſſing in the ſtrongeſt Terms her Sentiments of Friendſhip and Affection towards His Britannick Majeſty, and was at the ſame Time pleaſed to appoint Sunday the 21ſt Inſtant, immediately after Divine Service, for the Performance of the Ceremony, which was as follows:

Mr. Harris having, at Noon, repaired to the Palace according to Appointment, he was there received by the Grand Maſter of the Ceremonies, who conducted him into the Audience-Room, where her Imperial Majeſty was attended by Count Panin, the Vice-Chancellor, and Marſhal Galitzin, her Aide-de-Camp in Waiting; the Great Duke and Dutcheſs, and all the principal Officers of the Court, being in an adjacent Apartment, with the Folding-Doors open. Mr. Harris being introduced by the Grand Maſter of the Ceremonies, made a low Reverence on his Entrance, a ſecond in the Middle of the Room, and a third on his approaching her Imperial Majeſty; and Mr. Harris then kneeling, her Imperial Majeſty immediately inveſted him with the Ribbon and Badge of the Order; and then taking from a Table a Gold-hilted Sword richly ornamented with Diamonds, the Empreſs touched his Left Shoulder Three Times with it, pronouncing theſe Words, Soyez Bon et Honorable Chevalier au Nom de Dieu; and on Sir James Harris's riſing up, and kiſſing her Imperial Majeſty's Hand, the Empreſs added, Et pour vous prouver combien Je ſuis contente de vous, Je vous fais Preſent de l'Epée avec laquelle Je vous ai fait Chevalier. Then Sir James, after expreſſing to Her Imperial Majeſty his reſpectful and grateful Senſe of theſe moſt gracious and extraordinary Marks of Favour, withdrew from the Empreſs's Preſence, obſerving the ſame Ceremony as at his Entrance.
